

OnTrack Core Fund Note 25-12-01

Prepared by Lee Harris on 12/01/2025. Data from 11/28/2025.

SYMBOL (OTRFX/OTRGX)

Year-to-Date

The S&P 500 fell more than 5% from its October high during the first 3 weeks of the month, but a sharp rebound over the final 5 trading days lifted the index to a modest gain for November, though still below its October peak. Improving breadth and renewed strength across several major sectors suggest the pullback was part of a healthy correction rather than the start of a broader trend change.

Year-to-Date

The broader backdrop remains constructive, though not without crosscurrents. Headline geopolitical risks, tariff and central bank uncertainty, and uneven economic data have introduced volatility, but technical conditions across key asset classes continue to lean positive. The BoA/ML US High Yield Master II Index, our bellwether for risk conditions, remains above its 50-day moving average, reinforcing the favorable environment for equities and income funds. As always, we are alert to any deterioration, particularly a decisive break below the 21-day moving average (not shown), which would serve as an early-warning signal.

The OnTrack Core Fund is fully invested and modestly leveraged, consistent with our ongoing emphasis on participating in strong uptrends while maintaining disciplined risk controls.

Key market themes this month include:

- Overall exposure and leverage were reduced as volatility increased early in the month.
- Equity exposure was dropped during the three week decline, but largely re-added as stocks staged a strong rebound in the final week.
- Preferred stocks and emerging-market bonds remain core holdings, contributing stable income and trend reliability. Some underperforming positions were reduced or sold to help manage portfolio volatility during the pullback.
- Risk management remains paramount. Any deterioration in junk-bond trend strength or sustained weakness in portfolio holdings will prompt a timely shift to a more defensive posture.

Last month's environment reinforces the importance of a disciplined, risk-managed approach to investing. While uptrends across equities and income funds continue to support a modestly aggressive stance, we remain prepared to adjust positioning quickly should conditions change.

Disclosures

Objective: The OnTrack Core Fund seeks total return while keeping the Fund's volatility and downside risk below that of major equity market indices.

Strategy: To seek the Fund's objective, the Fund's subadvisor, Price Capital Management, Inc., uses a flexible investment approach that emphasizes capital preservation, but allows the portfolio managers to adopt a less conservative posture and to increase emphasis on capital appreciation when they believe the additional risk is warranted by favorable market conditions. The subadvisor invests long-or-short primarily in stocks, bonds and commodities using the subadvisor's technical and risk control strategies.

The subadvisor's technical strategy is based on a form of technical analysis known as "chart analysis" that attempts to invest in up-trending assets that are expected to produce above average risk-adjusted returns. Up-trending assets are those with generally rising prices and down-trending assets are those with generally falling prices. The subadvisor also uses this technique to take short positions in down-trending assets.

Some risks of investing in the OnTrack Core Fund are: Risks of the Subadvisor's Investment Strategy, Management Risk, Bond Risk, Commodity Risk, Derivatives Risk, Emerging Market Risk, Equity Risk, Foreign Investment Risk, Leverage Risk, Market Risk, Municipal Securities Risk, Mortgage-Backed Security Risk, Mutual Fund Risk, and Short Position Risk. Neither Morningstar nor its content providers are responsible for any damages or losses arising from any use of this information. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The Morningstar Rating does not include any adjustment for sales loads. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three, five, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10- year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.
